NOT A REFLECTION IN OUR SCHOOLS

Retarded Pupils the Result of Many Foreigners in the State.

The address of Dr. Leonard P. Ayres of the Russell Sage foundation before the state teachers' convention has caused much comment. It is believed by some that his remarks on the elimination and retardation of children have been misinterpreted in some quarters. His statement that New Haven has the second largest number of retarded pupils of the towns in the state is calculated by some to be rather a reflection on the New Haven schools, which have stood very high in comparison with the other schools in the country.

According to Dr. Ayres' statement, America had the largest number of retarded pupils New Haven was second on the list, and then came Middlebury, Hartford, Meriden and Waterbury in that order on the list.

Supt. Beede of New Haven was asked about this matter and he said it was really no reflection on the New Haven schools. He thought the condition was due to a considerable extent to the large number of immigrant or non-English speaking pupils in our public schools, who could not be expected to stand on the same grade as English-speaking children.

"It is pretty difficult to make fair comparisons," said Mr. Beede.

Of course, if a school system is strict, in that town a large number of retarded pupils will be reported," he continued.

"And in another town, where the system is not so strict, the number would be less. And yet there might not be any better schools in that town. Of course, any such comparisons are not fair as showing actual efficiency."

"It means that many retarded pupils make a bad name for our schools, instead of being promoted to another grade. But this is no reflection of the pupils, especially in the case of a pupil who enters the school with no knowledge of the English language. It is for the benefit of the pupil to be given another year in the same grade. Such a course will be of the greater benefit to the pupil."

"do not look upon Dr. Ayres' address as a reflection upon our schools. If we have a larger number of non-English speaking pupils in our schools, and I do not think that it is a reflection on the efficiency of our schools, but it is a reflection on the fact that we have a large number of retarded pupils, but it is no reflection on the efficiency of our schools. And I do not think that it is a reflection on the efficiency of our schools, but it is a reflection on the fact that we have a large number of retarded pupils, but it is no reflection on the efficiency of our schools."

HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT.

George A. Sharpe furnished the Necessary $200 Bail.

Justice of the Peace John W. Corley on Monday night found probable cause in the case of the state vs. George Adelbert Sharpe of East Lyme and held him for the next term of superior court, bonds being fixed at $200 and furnished by Fred C. Odgers of Niantic.

The case was heard in Union hall, Niantic, at 6.30 a. m. No witnesses were called. Attorney Clayton B. Smith of New London appeared for accused and entered a demurrer, which the court overruled.

Sharpe was accused of assault upon Irving J. Gable, a resident of East Lyme and a neighbor. The assault took place in Mr. Sharpe's barnyard, where Mr. Gable had gone to recover some of his cattle, which had strayed onto Sharpe's land.

Sharpe, it appeared, and Gable had some words, after which Sharpe picked up and hit Gable with a golf club over the head and arm.

CIVIL SUPERIOR COURT.

Case of Atkinson & Co. vs. Alfred Mitchell on Trial.

A suit with a counter claim for many times the amount of the claim was opened in the superior court at New London Tuesday morning. The case was between Atkinson & Co., electrical contractors of Boston, against Alfred Mitchell of New London and Co., who claimed $25,000 for work done on the electric plant of the New London and Groton power company.

Atkinson & Co. did some electrical work for Mr. Mitchell at the Poly. He claimed that they claim a balance of $25,000 due them on the contract. Mr. Mitchell's counter claim is for $5,000 for promises made by defendant and the plaintiff to supply excessive charges for supplies and labor, and for $3,365.34 for defective material and labor, making a total claim of $12,330.66.

The case of Ezra J. Hempstead, appeal from Waterford board of relief, has gone off the list.

NORWICH TOWN

Eels Swimming in the Yard After Hurricane at Miami—Miss Ruth Northrop Describes Experience in Florida—Local Interests.

In a letter written Oct. 21 from Miami, Fla., Miss Ruth Northrop described the hurricane which affected them. There were signs of the hurricane for a week—wind and rain, but the barometer was steady. Then the first signs of the storm came from Key West, saying that the wind was blowing at the rate of 72 miles an hour. At that time, children were sent home from school, men tied their boats more securely to docks; it was noticed that the barometer had gone down many points.

That night the wind blew a hurricane; the house shook, though it had been propped on two sides. There was a light in the eastern sky like moonlight, only no shadows, until 2 a. m. when it grew dark, showing that the worst was over, though the wind still blew hard. In the morning they saw that the tides had risen, had come beyond the house, which is not near the water, and eels were swimming in the yard.

She writes: There was much damage done in the country around. Miami suffered only from high tides. In some places the railroad tracks are under nine feet of water; there are 35 miles of track to be repaired in this vicinity. Trains are stopped, and the country is a day without mail. Some of the grocery stores are without potatoes, butter and eggs.

The wind has changed from east to west and now we shall probably have sunshine for six months.

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy Was Found.

Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I began to gain at once. Am now cured."

Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsaparilla.
